BStrong Together is pleased to announce the creation of three ongoing, facilitated Conversation Circles to begin in the fall. FREE and open to all parents, caregivers, educators, and community members inside the geographic boundaries of Barrington 220 School District (affiliation with the District is not required), the Conversation Circles aim to build a community of support focused on the issues, concerns, joys and challenges of raising children in today's complex world.

Meeting monthly throughout the 2018-19 school year, each Conversation Circle will consist of a maximum of 25 parents, caregivers, educators, and community members from the Barrington area and two mental health professionals who will provide support, guidance, and expertise to group members. In order to meet the unique needs of children and youth at different developmental stages, BStrong Together has created three Conversation Circles, each to focus on a specific age group - elementary school, middle school, and high school.

The supportive learning environment of the Conversation Circle will provide information, tools, resources, and strategies from the knowledge and experience of the facilitators combined with the perspective and support that comes from the connection to other members. Together, the group will discuss ways to prepare our community's children and youth to successfully navigate the complex and challenging world of today and the future.

* Space is limited. Registration is required. ****

In order to strengthen the connections between members of the Conversation Circle as well as maximize the learning experience, member attendance at each monthly meeting is encouraged, but is not required.
